How to Access EPIC Training for Medical Students

Go to: http://intranet1.mountsinai.org/epic/ and go to E-Learning
You will be asked to provide your network ID and password.
Click on the highlighted (in YELLOW) link: New: Inpatient Provider Documentation Online Training: click here
How to Access EPIC Training for Medical Students

Click on the link: Medical Student & Radiology Notes

Once you have completed your training, please complete a brief survey for possible CME credits.

You MUST pass a brief exam to receive credit for completing your Inpatient Provider Documentation training. You will have only TWO attempts to score at least an 80% on the exam by June 1, 2017. Failure to pass the exam by this date will require that you enroll and complete classroom training. For assistance finding the exam, please scroll down for detailed instructions or click the following link.

Frequently Asked Questions:

What are the computer specifications I need to watch the eLearnings (online learning) tutorials?

These tutorials require Adobe Flash. Accordingly, they can only be accessed on iPads if you have a web browser application that supports flash (Please note these applications are not free and can be downloaded from the App Store). The eLearnings also contain right-clicking. If you are using a Mac to view the tutorials and do not know how to right-click on this device, find out more by clicking here.

Although the tutorials contain audio, speakers are not required to complete your training. If you do not have access to sound, follow along using the closed captions. Unless otherwise indicated, you can advance to the next slide when you have finished reading the captions by clicking anywhere in the window.

The lessons can be viewed on any computer that contains a Web browser (Internet Explorer, Firefox, or Chrome). You will need to authenticate your hospital employment prior to viewing the tutorials by typing your hospital network id and password. If you do not know this information, contact 4-HELP (912-241-4357).

How can I access the website that contains my exam?

Please go to our Learning Management System (LMS) which is located at https://mountsinai.uccom.com. Your username is your Id number and your password is itself. If you do not know your Id number, it is located on the back of your Mount Sinai ID badge.
Complete the interactive tutorial. Your name will be logged in by Epic as having completed the tutorial once you have successfully passed the exam at the end.